"German Syrup"

A Cough and Croup Medicine.

For children a medicine should be absolutely reliable. A mother must be able to pin her faith to it as to her Bible. It must contain nothing violent, uncertain, or dangerous. It must be standard in material and manufacture. It must be plain and simple to administer; easy and pleasant to take. The child must like it. It must be prompt in action, giving immediate relief, as children's troubles come quick, grow fast, and end fatally or otherwise in a very short time. It must not only relieve quick but bring them around quick, as children chafe and fret and spoil their constitutions under long confinement. It must do its work in moderate doses. A large quantity of medicine in a child is not desirable. It must not interfere with the child's spirits, appetite or general health. These things suit old as well as young folks, and make Boschee's German Syrup the favorite family medicine.

Why Humanity Is Dwarfed.

Woman has not suffered alone from the denial to her of political equality. The human race is like a man who through infancy, youth and manhood has compelled his right leg to bear the burden of his body, regarding the left merely as an ornamental appendage, to be swung up by supports and tricked out with ribbons, lace and jewelry. The one would be nerveless and feeble, the other lame and overworked, and the progress of the whole body would be halting, uneven and slow. So with the body politic. All who are interested in public affairs feel how lame, unequal and imperfect is the advance of society, and how heavily drag the mighty interests of the great republic.

It will be no better till complete justice is done to woman. With her enfranchisement there will come a nobler era. Then, with interests that are identical, with a humanity common to both, the masculine head married to the feminine heart, wisdom supplemented with love, man and woman shall together work out the great problems of life, and a nobler and better civilization shall come to the waiting future.—Mrs. Mary A. Livermore.

Heavier Engines Bound to Come.

The demand of the time is to move weight over distances at the least possible cost to it on slow freight or fast passenger trains. There are hundreds of locomotives in service of about forty tons weight, capable of hauling a train of 100 tons at the average running rate of sixty miles an hour. But that is not the kind of fast train that our railroad managers want. They are required to make money for the companies employing them, and they realize that it pays much better to use locomotives weighing sixty tons that are capable of hauling a fast train of 300 tons.

It is a curious study, and one that is interesting to some minds, to investigate the rapid speed that might be made with safety with locomotives having abnormally large drivers, but as far as the bearing on American railroad operating is concerned, it is just as practicable as speculations or calculations respecting the time it would take a balloon of certain proportions to reach the moon.—National Car Builder.

A Clinch for the M. D.

A good story comes all the way from San Francisco. It is said that a lady applied to her physician in that city for advice and a prescription. He had long attended her and her family, and on this occasion he recommended that she go to a popular watering place in that part of the country, giving her a letter of introduction to a physician who resided at the springs.

On the way there the lady remarked to her daughter that as long as her doctor had been treating her he had never stated just what was her ailment. "I've a good mind to open this letter and see what he says of my case to the other doctor." Acting on the impulse she tore open the envelope, and, taking out the letter, read, "Dear Doctor—Keep the old lady four weeks, and then send her back to me."—Detroit Free Press.

Races in Brazil.

The pure whites of Brazil comprise about 35 per cent. of the total population; 25 per cent. or so are negroes, and about 35 per cent. mulattoes, while the remainder are aboriginal Indians. In the northern provinces the Indians are most numerous, and in Rio de Janeiro, Bahia, Pernambuco and Minas the negroes are to be found in great numbers. The greater part of the Europeans in Brazil (who live in the seaport towns and the adjacent provinces) are those from the Latin races, chiefly the Portuguese and Spanish.—Detroit Free Press.

As early as the campaign in Spain, in 1807, in support of Peter the Cruel, and also in the following reign of Richard II, the English soldier appears to have been in white and with a red cross of St. George on his breast and back. In 1461 there is evidence of red being adopted for a small number of men at least, when a contingent for the army of the king maker (the Earl of Warwick) was sent from Rye dressed in red coats.

The highest place in the world regularly inhabited is stated to be the Buddhist monastery, Haine, in Tibet, which is about 16,000 feet above sea level. The next highest is Galera, a railway station in Peru, which is located at a height of 15,635 feet. Near it, at the same level, a railway tunnel 3,847 feet in length is being driven through the mountains.

In the Seventeenth century rotating pumps, like the Pappanham engine with two pistons and the Prince Rupert with one, were first used. Pumps with plunger pistons were invented by Morland, an Englishman, in 1874; the double acting pump by De la Hire, the French academician.

The greatest density of population is in the area which has from forty to fifty inches of yearly rainfall. On either side, as the rainfall increases or decreases—the maximum of the country being above seventy inches and the minimum below ten inches—the population diminishes.

It is hardly worth while to dread a thunderstorm, as there is only one chance in about a million that a person will die from a lightning stroke, which is doubtless the most instantaneous and painless of all causes of death.

DR. H. A. FREDRICK, formerly

THE PROFIT ON SILVER.

A few days ago the JOURNAL referred to the fact that the Secretary of the Treasury had asked the Attorney General whether the Government was authorized to issue Treasury notes, except in payment of bullion, and if the seignorage or profit on the coinage of silver should be considered the same as other assets of the Government?

The Attorney General has decided that the Secretary has no authority, under the Act of July 17, 1890, to issue Treasury notes, except in payment of bullion purchased, but that the seignorage from the coinage of bullion under the Act becomes part of the general cash and may be used like any other.

This seignorage or profit under the Act of last July amounts to $4,000,000, or $1,500,000 more than was previously reported, and under the Attorney General's decision the available cash in the Treasury may be increased to that extent. If all the silver bullion purchased under the Act of 1890 was coined, the profit would be about double the amount, but that profit, like the $65,000,000 seignorage on the coinage of silver under the Act of 1873, goes into the Treasury, not to the silver miners.

The Act of July 1st which reduced one of the precious metals to a commodity, was indorsed by every Republican paper in Nevada, though the non-partisan Silver Convention, which met at Carson, demanded free coinage or nothing. Now the people who were misled by that indorsement, are undeceived, when they see that the difference between the market price of silver and its value when coined, which at present is about 33 cents per ounce, goes into the Treasury instead of the pockets of the men who produced the silver.

The market value of the bullion produced in Nevada in the last twelve months is estimated at about $7,000,000. Free coinage would have increased that value nearly one-third more, so that the people of the State would have had at least $2,000,000 more money among them in the last year if a free coinage bill had been passed last June.

BLAINE'S ILLNESS.

The Washington Post, in an article double-tongued to give it prominence, and supposed to be inspired by the President, treats of Secretary Blaine's illness. It says, notwithstanding the denials by Blaine's family and physicians, the impression is fast gaining ground that Blaine will never be an entirely well man again. It is well known that for years he has been troubled with something like Bright's disease, brought on by a too free indulgence at state dinners and banquets, which has caused the ruin of so many public men. "Blaine's friends," says the Post, "have noticed that his unusually pale face has been even paler for the last several months. It is not over a month since he was confined to his residence in Washington by something the doctors variously called 'grippe,' 'gout' and 'rheumatism.' The talk about his failing intellect indulged in by a sensational New York paper, is, of course, absurd, but there is grave apprehension entertained concerning his general health. He may resume his duties at the State Department after a lapse of several months, but not for any great length of time. His disease will slowly undermine his strong constitution."

The Washington Post is said by the San Francisco Bulletin to be an administration organ and that the article was inspired, yet some Nevada newspapers are so obtuse mentally and their vision so clouded with partisan prejudice that they attribute the article to the Democrats.

A LOBBYIST'S COMPLAINT.

G. W. Taylor, a lobbyist, has brought suit against twenty-four members of the California Legislature for $8,000, alleged to be due him for work performed. Mr. Taylor furnishes a bill of particulars which shows that $5,262 75 of the amount sued for is for services in carrying messages as confidential agent of the Combination Committee, which was appointed to negotiate the terms upon which the votes of the twenty-four law makers were to be delivered.

The complaint states that all dealings between the plaintiff and defendants were supposed to be on a cash basis, owing to the peculiar nature of the business, no books were kept.

Ex-Senator Reagan of Texas, who is in Washington, is reported by the New York Sun as saying: "When the Texas delegation goes to the next Democratic Nominating Convention, its members will demand the selection of a Western man for President. If Cleveland is nominated he will get the electoral vote of Texas and of Arkansas, but these are the only two States west of the Mississippi that he can carry."

At the annual meeting of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company held in New York, Tuesday, the annual report showed surplus earnings $803,000, after paying all charges, but no dividend will be declared as the company has decided to use the money in improvements for the purpose of taking advantage of the Subsidy laws.

The Scottsdale miners' strike resulted in utter failure. The old miners are now refused work in the district, and hundreds of them are wandering about homeless and destitute. This condition of affairs furnishes conclusive proof that strikes should not be resorted to until all other methods of settling differences fail.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Judge Breckenridge Dies on the Floor. Special to the Journal.

DETROIT, May 28.—Judge Breckenridge of the St. Louis Common Theological Seminary, while in the midst of a speech this afternoon, fell dead with heart disease.

Judge Breckenridge's death occurred while he was addressing the general Assembly on the Dr. Briggs controversy. He was about to conclude, and his last words were: "Now, gentlemen, I feel that I have discharged my duty, and wish to be excused from further speaking." Reaching for a glass of water he suddenly threw up his hands and fell to the floor, striking heavily on his head. He was hastily carried to the ante-room and physicians summoned. They found him dead. When the announcement was made, the Assembly at once voted to adjourn for a day, and instead of the banquet assigned for tonight a prayer meeting was announced.

Mr. Breckenridge was the son of Rev. Dr. J. W. Breckenridge, who was a brother of the widely-known William and Robert Breckenridge. General Alger of Michigan offered a special train to convey the remains to St. Louis.

THE STRIKERS REFUSED WORK.

Hundreds of Homeless Fugitives. Special to the Journal.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., May 28.—The rush of old men for work at the various plants continues. In most instances, however, they are turned off with an excuse and given to understand that their services are not needed.

Hundreds of old miners are drifting from one works to another in the vain hope of finding work, but everywhere they go they are met with the same statement, "no work now." This simply means that the black list has gone through the region and a man refused at one works is certain to be refused at another.

As a result they are either preparing to leave the district for another field, or are drifting aimlessly about, and more homes have been broken up by the strike that has just closed than by all the strikes that preceded this gigantic failure. Reports are coming in hourly of the homeless destitution of hundreds of fugitives.

Prohibiting Sealing. Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The President this afternoon received a dispatch from Minister Lincoln at London, saying that official notice had been given in the Commons that a bill will be introduced on Monday to authorize the Queen to prohibit British subjects from taking seals in Behring sea. The question engaged the President's principal attention to-day and he had conferences with his Cabinet. One point considered was the advisability of sending war vessels to Behring sea to reinforce the revenue cutter in preventing the taking of seals in case the closed season is decided upon. This fleet would, of course, co-operate with the English war ships now in those waters in the enforcement of the agreement as concluded. It is understood that the Secretary of the Navy reported there are three naval vessels that could be prepared for this service without much delay.

South Dakota and the World's Fair.

Special to the Journal.

YANKTON, S. D., May 28.—The World's Fair Convention adjourned at noon after adopting a plan for raising funds for an exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893. The management of the whole affair has been left to a commission of eighteen men. The commission will communicate with every member of the last Legislature and see if they will consent to attend a special session of the Legislature, pledged to vote for an appropriation of $50,000. If they will the Governor will call an early session. If the legislators fail to consent the commission will endeavor to raise $100,000 by private subscription.

Bridge Burning in Arizona.

Special to the Journal.

CLIFTON, May 28.—Nine bents of a bridge between here and Guthrie are burned. This is the second bridge burned in fourteen days in the same neighborhood, and it is believed to be the work of incendiaries. The Railroad Company offers $1,000 reward for the burners.

The American University.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The organization of the American University was effected. Among the incorporators are: Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania; Senator McMullin, of Michigan; Mark Hoyt, of New York; Representative Springer, of Illinois; Mrs. John A. Logan, of Washington. Mark Hoyt was elected President of the Board. Among the Trustees were: Bishop Bowman, Newman, Vincent and Wilson, Secretary Proctor, the President and Vice President of the United States, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Speaker of the House of Representatives. The ex-officio members of the Board of Trustees is composed of representatives of the Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, Baptist and Methodist Episcopal Churches. An appeal will shortly be made to the American people for $5,000,000 for early commencement of the work.

Goshen's Proposition Satisfactory. Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The State Department received with satisfaction the news that Goshen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, had given notice in the House of Commons of a bill to prohibit British subjects from sealing in Behring sea. Generally it is taken as an indication that the British Government is preparing to accept the conditions imposed by the President as a preliminary to arbitration and will cause the British vessels to refrain from sealing in the meantime. The fixed period for the cessation of sealing referred to by Goshen probably means the remainder of this season. During this time arbitrators will have opportunity to reach an agreement.

Lieutenant Casey's Murderer Free. Special to the Journal.

ST. LOUIS, S. D., May 28.—Plenty Horses is a free Indian. No inkling of the sudden termination of the case had been given. At 2 o'clock when Court convened, the testimony being completed, the attorneys were preparing to commence arguments when Judge Shiras said: "There is no need of going farther with this case." The Judge said in substance that the guilt or innocence of the accused turned upon the question as to whether or not a state of actual war existed at the time of Casey's death. In the opinion of the court it had been shown beyond doubt that such a state of war did exist.

Knights Templar Congress. Special to the Journal.

EDINBURGH, May 28.—At a session of the Templars' Congress to-day to ballot for a place in which the Congress would hold its meeting in 1893, the vote resulted in the selection of Des Moines, Iowa, which received 96 votes over all other places voted for. The American delegates expressed much satisfaction over the fact of the capital of a Prohibition State being selected as the place of meeting.

Lieutenant Commander Bicknell Guilty. Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Secretary Tracy approved the findings of the court martial which tried Lieutenant Commander Bicknell on a charge of allowing the Nina, Galena and a tug to be stranded. The court martial found that Bicknell was guilty, and fixed the penalty at suspension from rank and duty for one year.

He Says That He Is 137.

The oldest man in Tennessee, if his own figures are reliable, is an inmate of the county workhouse here. His name is Tobe Lewis. He says he has been married nine times, and he is the father of more than forty children.—Memphis Appeal-Advocate.

A Botanical Curiosity.

At a meeting of the Royal Botanical society the secretary brought to the notice of members a portion of a large popular lately blown down in the gardens, showing a network of roots running almost round the trunk, between the bark and wood, at some distance from the ground. The plant had apparently derived its nourishment not from the soil, but from the decaying portions of itself.—Pall Mall Budget.

China's Great Bridge.

The longest bridge in the world is the Lion Bridge near Sangang, in China. It extends five and a quarter miles over an area of the Yellow Sea, and is supported by 300 high stone arches. The roadway is seventy feet above the water and is inclosed in an iron network. A marble lion twenty-one feet long rests on the crown of every pillar. The bridge was built at the command of the Emperor Kieng Long, who abdicated in 1795 on account of old age.

Don't forget that F. Levy & Bro. are selling their immense stock of dry goods, etc., at lower prices than ever.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Peculiar Sarsaparilla. It strengthens the blood, and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence. CHINESE URBANITY.

CIRCUMLOCUTION THEY DISPLAY IN LETTER WRITING.

The Educated Chinaman Can Give the American Points on Politeness and Refinements in the Conduct of Epistolary Correspondence.

It has probably fallen to the lot of most of us to have met people who,
 without the excuse of an unconscious habit, have the knack of asserting unpleasant truths, and who value the un-gracious practice as a sign of honesty.
 There are others, such as the Quakers of bygone days, who regard every expression which may not be in strict accordance with absolute truth as a sin against their consciences. To such people the idea of subscribing themselves "Yours truly" or of beginning a letter to a casual acquaintance, "Dear So and So," is abhorrent. But public opinion has been too strong for them, and we continue, and shall continue so long as society holds together, to address one another in terms of endearment and respect which are not required to correspond with our sentiments.

Oriental have surpassed us in this regard as much as the brilliant sunshine to which they are accustomed excels the murky atmosphere of Europe. The descriptions of ourselves and of our correspondents pale before the glowing expressions of objective admiration and subjective self abasement which adorn eastern epistles. We are content to confine our wishes and compliments to the present life; but such a limit is far too narrow for an Asiatic, who delights in wishing that his friends may live forever and ever, and that the ancestors of his enemies may be condemned to everlasting disgrace.

We are satisfied to speak of "I" and
 "You," but an oriental loves to heap adjectives of contempt upon himself and of glorification upon his correspondents.
 ELEVATING AND DEMEANING SIMILES.
 In all cases he avoids the use of the personal pronouns. By a system of cir-cumlocution necessitated by this omission, he describes himself as "Your younger brother," the character representing his expression being written small, and partly at the side of the columns of words, and he designates himself and others conjointly as "We ants."
 But the person he is addressing figures as "Your excellency," "My benevolent elder brother," or "Your honor," literally, "You who are at the steps of the council chamber." His own house is "a mean dwelling," or, as the parts of the character signify, "a stricken and broken dwelling," but he is unable to think of his correspondent's habitation as anything but "an honorable," literally "basket-of-pearls palace." In the same spirit of self abasement he feels obliged to wind up his epistle with the phrase,
 "Your stupid younger brother, So-and-So, bows his head to the ground." The character for "stupid" is drawn for us by two hieroglyphics, meaning "monkey hearted." To how to his friends is also pictorially expressed by a colloca-tion of "a head" and "turf," suggesting the act of bowing the head to the earth.

If his correspondent proposes to call upon him he hastens to assure him that
 "at the appointed hour, with bowing hands, he will await the time when his excellency shall abase himself by driving his chariot to his office." His friend's letter is "the revelation of his hand," and he takes pains to make him aware that holding it "with washed hands he had chanted" its contents.

On expressions of thanks particular emphasis is laid by the Chinese, and with true Oriental instinct, in their effort after hyperbole, they are accustomed to give a physical interpretation to their mental feelings.

POWERFUL HYPERBOLE.
 For instance, a correspondent who wishes to say that he is profoundly grateful, writes, "Your kindness is very deeply engraved and enveined in my heart." If he hears of the illness of a friend "he cannot help being hung up in suspense," and the symbol he uses shows to the eyes the heart of the writer tied up, while at the same time he urges him "to take care of his person as a pearl." And on the receipt of better news he breaks out,
 "How shall I bear the joy and pleasure!" Having finished expressing the object of his letter, he winds up by "availing himself of the opportunity to wish his correspondent all the blessings of the season, and," if he is on the road to honor, "all the promotion he deserves."

But, if not ferocious, a sufficient lattitude still remains to a Chinaman for the development of much plain speaking. It is as possible to "slit the thin skin of life" with a stiletto as with a broadsword, and in the most finished periods a Chinaman finds himself quite able to express either withering contempt or remorseless hate.
 But he has other ways also of giving vent to his ill humors. The very punc-tuations rules of letter writing enable him to convey his dislike by omission as well as by commission.

Chinese is, it may be explained, written in vertical columns, beginning on the top right hand corner of the page.
 In ordinary circumstances each column is completed to the bottom of the page;
 but long usage has established the custom that, if the name or attributes of the person addressed occurs, the column is cut short, and the characters representing these subjects of honor begin the next column at an elevation of the space of one or two characters, as the case may be, above the general level of the text.
 It will now be seen what a ready weapon lies to the hand of a Chinese letter writer.
 To write "Your Excellency" or the name of the correspondent's country or sovereign in the body of the column is to inflict a dire insult upon him, and is equivalent to the expression of the bitterest contempt in European epistolary style.—
